MORHAM MAINE'S MAINE ANJOU BEEF STUD

The catch up

2020 will be marked in history as a challenging time for all of us. COVID-19 is etched into history and will be forever remembered by all of us individually.

Farm life at Morham Maine's goes on as usual: animals still need to be fed; the crops still need to be tended to; and the usual daily tasks need to be adhered to. The effect of COVID-19 is very surreal: the world has stopped; our community business has ceased; all non-essential workers have been ordered to stay home. It's really hard to grasp what has unfolded. The cancellation of major shows and field days has, if anything, given us at Morham Maine's time to attend to farm tasks that needed attention and, I guess, time to stop and smell the roses!

Morham Maine's initiated our very first website at www.morhammaines.com.au. This has been our best year for the sale of bulls. We have sold many to repeat buyers and new clients alike. Having a website and a window to the markets in other countries on Facebook helped us decide to expand our market to the world. The internet has made so much achievable and economically doable.

Rouge Apollo (pictured in this catalogue) is a striking young stud bull with so much appeal and quality. He was meant to be presented in the show circuit in 2020, however, this became impossible due to the COVID-19 situation. We made the resulting decision: to take him to Genetics Australia for export and domestic semen collection. This in itself is a 6-month (minimum) project as there are many hoops he must jump to make export grade and meet stringent bio-security measures, even before he is collected. The timing was perfect, so we ventured where we had never ventured before and it was a success! We now have an international market to expand to.

Apollo wasn't the only one having a holiday: our prize cow Rouge Genevieve who is Rouge Apollo Dam was sent to Holbrook breeders for embryo collection. She has, in the past, produced excellent progeny from different sires proving that she is a great asset to our brand. We desired to move forward with Rouge Abella, a beautiful cow with superb depth, length, and thickness, and she will hold our future in good stead.

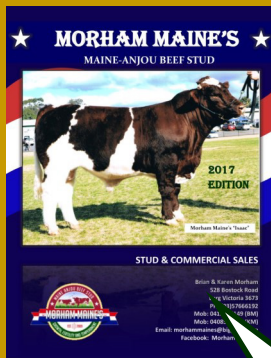

While we were out exploring the export market and preserving our brand, we also imported genetics; buying new bloodlines not yet in Australia. Implanting of these new bloodlines will begin in the next coming year.

Over the last 2 years, we have been developing our Maine-Angus lines as a great commercial brand and we are happy with the development thus far. Rouge Napoleon (pictured in this catalogue) has sired beautiful black heifers and bulls that look very Angus. The calves have taken a lot of the traits of their Angus mothers but weigh more when weaned. Our goal is to meet market demands. We are very care-fully analyzing and adjusting our brand to be appealing, offering consumers an edge with a great commercial mix. They have traits of the black cattle, but still retain traits of the Maine-Anjou; this being their quiet temperaments, the heavier bone, the ease in calving, the great maternal traits, and milking ability.

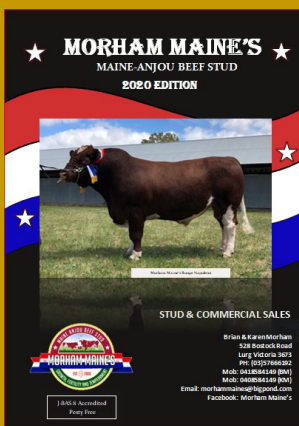

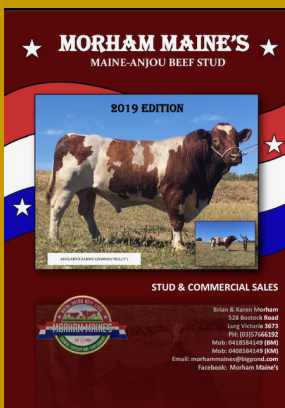

Generally, every year we produce a brochure of the previous year's news and articles but that wasn't possible in 2020. This year we have created a catalogue of Morham Maine's available semen. Brian and I welcome enquiries any time and are happy to chat about our animals. Some of these bulls are still alive and working to-day; some have been moved to several farms because they have been quality producers, and owners are reluctant to send them to market.

Morham Maine's has an extensive inventory of semen available, and we welcome enquiries.

Let's look forward to 2021, stay safe and well, and hopefully we all have a much more memorable year!
